

ABA:70201432

SPa ventral

This fluorescence microscopy image shows a ventral view of a SPa (likely a larva or embryo). The image is divided into four quadrants by a vertical and a horizontal white line. The left half shows a bright blue, irregularly shaped region with several distinct, brighter spots, indicating areas of high fluorescence. The right half shows a solid, uniform blue region. The overall shape is roughly circular or oval.